Upholding quality

Reference: LE2-A   Last Updated: 01/03/2019

In order to ensure that learning environments and experiences are safe and effective, all environments should be regularly reviewed, and all concerns and complaints about practice learning addressed effectively and in a timely way. AEIs, and their practice learning partners, should have the processes in place to manage this effectively.

More information on this can be found in our QA framework.